

Fire Safety Consultancy

As much or as little support you need from our team of experts

“ I don't think you can underestimate the value of compliance in business. SOA and the Fire Safety Support Package give me peace of mind at reasonable cost. We have a weekly systems check and a full report once a month, this saves me valuable time that I can spend on the running of my own business. With the ever changing rules and regulations this invaluable service goes a long way. I wouldn't hesitate to recommend SOA for all of your safety requirements.

A wide range of consultancy services in the field of fire safety and fire protection.

Since the introduction of the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 SOA Safety have been advising and carrying out work for many organisations to ensure the Responsible Person for those organisations are fully compliant with this piece of legislation.

Fire Management Support

Competency

To carry out Fire Risk Assessments you must be competent ensuring you have sufficient knowledge and experience. If this isn't the case you must seek the help of a professional who can carry out the assessment on your behalf.

The Responsible Person can be the employer, owner or occupier of a premise and this person must carry out their duties which can be a daunting task. SOA Safety can take all of the stress away by advising you of your duties and carrying out the work on your behalf to enable you to comply and be confident that you are ensuring the safety of all relevant persons.

SERVICES

Fire Risk Assessment

SOA Safety have carried out over 1000 fire risk assessments inspections on premises as wide ranging as schools to public houses and shops and offices to residential properties and hospitals. The fire risk assessments we undertake are bespoke to each premises. The report will include the organisational structure, full details of the premise, a full set of fire and evacuation plans for your building which can be used for bespoke fire action notices and fire zone plans throughout. There will be a specific section detailing remedial actions along with who is responsible and timescale for completion.

Fire Policies and Procedures

Our team can produce all of your fire safety documents including the fire policy, evacuation procedure, fire log book and many other documents specific to your companies requirements under the legislation.

Fire Evacuation and Plans

SOA Safety are able to assist you with your fire evacuation plans including the provision of bespoke evacuation signage.

We are also able to carry out planned evacuations of your premises including horizontal and vertical phased evacuations of which we have extensive experience.

Our experts will identify and rectify problem areas, with the end result being a fast and effective evacuation procedure and increased staff awareness.
